

Your right to privacy is changing

GDPR and you

The General Data Protection Regulation or GDPR, (Regulation (EU) 2016/679) is a regulation by which the European Parliament, the Council of the European Union and the European Commission intend to strengthen and unify data protection for all individuals within the European Union (EU). From 25 May 2018, this new data protection regime is in force.

Your individual rights

The GDPR includes the following rights for individuals:

- The right to be informed
- The right of access
- The right to rectification
- The right to erasure
- The right to restrict processing
- The right to data portability
- The right to object
- The right not to be subject to automated decision-making including profiling.

How we manage your privacy

PAPAA is an ethical charity and takes your privacy seriously. Any data you provide, that can identify you, such as your name, address and other personal information is kept only for record keeping, internal audit and is stored securely.

After that time (6-years) records are deleted or destroyed securely. We do not share or transfer your data to any third party organisation, except where legally required to do so, such as if you have made a Gift Aid donation, we have to provide your name and postcode to Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC), in order to provide proof that the donor is a UK tax payer.

How do we use your data?

We only use the data you provide for the purpose you have agreed, this newsletter is sent to you because you have submitted a request to receive it. We will not use this email for any other purpose unless you tell us to (opt-in). You can opt-out at any time.
