Pso Pscience

- Do you worry about your dental health and psoriasis?
- Have you wondered if Vitamin D supplements improve your skin?

These are just 2 subjects explored in the latest edition of Pso Pscience, PAPAA's science-based review digest.

Published twice a year, each issue looks at some recent published studies and explores their findings.

Written by Dr David Ashton, PAPAA's senior medical advisor, the articles are brief and provide context and comment on often difficult to navigate published works.

The publication is available to download free, but you will need to register as a website user to access, which is also free.

So far 4 editions have been produced and you can read them here
