

Read our latest journal. No agendas, just facts!

In an ever-changing world of healthcare news and online opinions, reliable information is more important than ever.

At PAPAA, we are dedicated to supporting research, providing trusted information, and educating healthcare professionals, while empowering those living with psoriasis and psoriatic arthritis to make informed choices about their care.

Our latest journal cuts through the noise. We focus on providing credible insights drawn from expert sources, clinical research, and real-world experience. Whether it's understanding new treatments, navigating the NHS, or managing day-to-day life with psoriatic disease, you can count on PAPAA's fact-checked and balanced content.

Explore the full contents of our latest Skin 'n' Bones Connection, and other current topics on our website to stay informed and supported.

Learn more